THE SLAVE-TRADE-DOMESTIC AND

THE SLAVE-TRADE—DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN, Why it Exists and How it May be Extended and its property of the world."

"A is an invaluable addition to the literature of the country and of the world."

"Mr. Carey has clearly substantiated his claim to be the leading writer now devoted to the study of Political Economy. In his pregnant discussions he has not only elevated the scientific position of his country, but nobly subserved the cause of humanity."

PRINCIPLES OF POLITICAL ECONOMY.

"Pastiat has taken from Carey Ideas that the American Economist had developed, and had presented to his readers with so much skill, and with such an imposing mass of facts, as in truth to leave in suspense the decision of even the most accomplished student of his works. "Carey, and, after him. Bastiat, have thus introduced a formula in relation to the measure of value, that I believe is destined to be universally adopted. It is a most felicitous idea. "His work cannet be omitted from our Bibliothecs, nor can its publication be delayed."

"The most important product of political economy for the last half century."

THE CREDIT SYSTEM IN FRANCE, ENGLAND AND THE UNITED STATES. In 8vo.

"An American author, Mr. H. C. Carey, well known by several excellent works, seems to me in this matter, (Currency) and especially in the investigation of causes and effects, to have succeeded better than the English inquirers. As early as 1838, he had in his book—The Credit System in France, Great Britain and the United States—clearly shown the primary causes of the perturbations occurring almost periodically in commerce and currency, and that cause was the same in France and currency, and that cause was the same in France and currency and that cause was the same in France, and currency and that cause was the same in France, and currency and that cause was the same in France, and currency and that cause was the same in France and currency and that cause was the same in France, Great Britain and the Dictionnaire de Picconomie Politique.

"The field surveyed by Mr. Carey, in The Past and Present, is a broad one—broader than that of any other book of our time—for it discusses every interest of man."

"One of the strongest and most original writers of the age."

THE HARMONY OF INTERESTS: ACRICULTURAL, MANUFACTURING AND COMMERCIAL. In Evo.

"Mr. Carey, the well known statistical writer of America, has supplied us with ample materials for conducting such an inquiry; and we can selly recommend his remarkable work to all who wish to investigate the causes of the progress or decline of industrial communities."

On the let of February we shall publish an interesting work—
History of Circassia, the land of Schamyl and his hardy countaineers. Being a full description of the country and its habitraries and an account of the Mountaineers. Being a full description of the country and its inhabitants, and an account of the TWENTY YEARS WAR WITH RUSSIA, compiled by one of America's most elegant writers, J. Milton Mackie, esq. The home of Schamyl and the country of the Caucasus, interesting as it is, has been to the present time almost a terra incornita to the civilized world. It will be so no longer Mr. Mackie, in this elegantly written volume, introduces as to their homes, and we wander with him among their mountain fastnesses, and and the luxuriant valleys of the Kuban and the Terek, astonished at our previous ignorances of such a country and such a people.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE, 1856 .-

gard for prudence, policy or popularity, it has aimed to state for Righteomess, for Truth, for Humanity, against fortified Iniquity. Fraud and Oppression. There is not a six-e-trader on this Continent, though he may never read anything but his hills of sale and notes-payable, who does not know and hate THE TRIBLUNE; there is not an extensive fabricator of drugged and poisonous Liquors who does not consider it a very dangerous and immoral paper, and wonders why its publication is tolerated in a commercial cotton-buying city like New-York. THE NEWARK MERCUAY once forcibly remarked that it had never known a hard, griping, screwing, avarielous employer who was not hostile to THE TRIBUNE, nor one eminently generous and kindly who did not like it. Prompt and plain-spoken in its denunciations of injury and abuses of power, while claiming no exemption from human fallibility, it may have done temporary injustice to individuals, but it has never been unfaithful to Principle, nor deaf-emic Theology slone excepted—finds here the frees and most searching discussion.

Attached by prefound conviction to the beneficent policy of Industrial development and Internal Intercommunication whose most conspictous champion through the last Half-Century was HENRY CLAY—imbued, moreover, with that spirit of for hearance toward our weaker neighbors and toward the much wronged Aborigines of this Continent, and of Peace with All which will hallow the name of Whig. THE TRIBUNE, while surrendering no jot of its proper independence, cooperated earnestly and ardently with the Whig party so long as its vitality was preserved. When in 1829–22 an attempt was made to interpolate also-chunting into its creed, we sternly resisted that imposition; when, at the close of the last Presidential canvass, it was seen that a large pertion of the Whig spreferred to defeat their own party rather than allow its Anti-Stavery wing to abare its triumph, even under a conservative Chief on a Pro-Slavery platform, we knew and proclaimed that the Whig party was no more. Sheequent events, including the rise and culmination of the Know-Nothing conspiracy, and the speedy absorption therein of the winde force of Pro-Slavery Whighsm, only confirmed our undoubting suiteipations. With no sickly lamentations, therefore, for the inevitably bygone, but with hope, and joy, and sympathy, and words of cheer, have we halled the betaning and words at the progress of that mighty REPIBLICAN. FERANCE REFORM, including the entire suppression of the Traffic in Intoxicating Beverages, will find in it, as hitherto, an earnest and unflinching champion.

Commencing as a daily follo sheet of moderate size, and with carcely a shadow of patronage, THE TRIBUNE is now issued and WEEKLY, on a shadow of distinct editions.

Total......198,750 copies. We believe no other newspaper in the world has a subscripin list over half so large as this; and no periodical of any sortin rival it. And while its extreme cheapness, rendering an incase of paying readers only as indirect pecuniary advantage to, has doubtless largely swelled its subscription list; it would absurdity not to perceive in this unprecedented patronage me evidence of public approval and esteem.
